

Moving Up

Name: Lindsey Dunevant

New position: Capital resource director, Carolina Thread Trail

Hometown: Albemarle

Education: B.S., parks and recreation administration, N.C. State University, 1975; M.B.A., Pfeiffer University, 1989

What you like most about your new job: The Carolina Thread Trail will ultimately connect more than 2 million Carolinians through a community-determined system of trails and conservation corridors. To be a part of such an endeavor is an incredible opportunity to have a lasting and positive impact on our region.

Thoughts on your new position: This new role will support communities and empower them to participate more fully in The Thread's trail and greenway planning and development process. Smaller governments can especially benefit from capital resource assistance to meet the needs of their citizens and improve our local and regional quality of life.

Career advice: Always seek to do what you love.

First job: Recreation program supervisor

Personal hero: My father

Most influential book: The World is Flat, by Thomas Friedman

Person you would most like to meet: Sportscaster Bob Costas. He's knowledgeable about sports but stays up to speed on other topics as well.

Family: Wife, Sherry; daughter, Catherine, 27, and her husband, Joey Pipkin; and son, Charles, 24

Favorite vacation spot: The mountains of North Carolina

Favorite restaurant: McCormick & Schmick's

Likes about Charlotte: The opportunities that urban life affords

Dislikes about Charlotte: Traffic

What you most enjoy doing in your free time: Spending time with family, traveling and learning how to fly fish
